Pleated Blinds are extremely popular in conservatories and come in a variety of systems. Tensioned with guide lines and shaped angles are ideal for those tricky roof shapes. Free-hang blinds on the side windows not only give you shade & privacy but also allow you the opportunity of an unspoilt view of the outside world & uncluttered sill when the blind is fully retracted. Add to these a rectangular tensioned blind, ideal for any opening door or tilt & turn window and you will appreciate the appeal of the Pleated Blind.

Fabric has been developed to enable its use for different blind systems, so matching roof pleated blinds with rollers & verticals for the side windows is at last achievable with ease. A conservatory should be a room to be used all year round – with practical advice & experience, Shades will help to achieve the solution that not only looks great but will perform better too.
